

Qasas Multimedia International, LLC launches the official Michael Walton Foundation Website

March 16, 2009 – Washington, DC – Qasas Multimedia International, LLC deployed “<http://www.MichaelWaltonFoundation.org>” today in conjunction with the upcoming “Michael Walton Weekend” event which is held annually in the Washington DC area. The Michael Walton Foundation site will serve as a destination point online for all activities and events sanctioned by this non-profit organization.

MichaelWaltonFoundation.org content includes an overview of the foundation, updates on foundation activities, information on various programs sanctioned by the foundation and a media gallery showcasing live event and interview footage. There is also a convenient “paypal” option where individuals and corporations alike can make tax deductible online contributions to the foundation.

The MWF site utilizes the Joomla Open Source Web Application (www.joomla.org) as the framework for the site. With this web technology staff can login and make updates to the site without the need of web programming experience using an interface that is similar to the Microsoft Word office application.

ABOUT THE FOUNDATION

Founded in 2002, the Michael Walton Foundation was formed to fill the needs of the Washington, DC and Prince George's County community by providing additional opportunities for their youth to grow and develop, while applying their energy to productive pursuits. Michael Walton Foundation is designed to enlighten, expose, and empower our leaders of tomorrow.

It is our belief that through providing positive outlets to combat the negativity that our young people face that we can guide them to become exceptional citizens and leaders of tomorrow. While the organization currently focuses on a particular segment of the Washington DC metropolitan community (at-risk minority youth, ages 10-21, in the District and Prince George's County), the foundation has a dedicated growth plan that will expand the target market both culturally and geographically.

MWF was also recognized by the Mayor of Washington, DC; with April 13th officially proclaimed as Michael Walton Foundation Day in the District of Columbia.
